GOVT ROUNDING UP TERRORISTS

Flynn Recalled To Lead Secret Service—70 Arrests In Closely Guarded Washington—Victim of Palmer Bomber Unidentified—Congress Scolded.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, June 4.—With William J. Flynn, former chief of the United States secret service, in charge of the Bureau of Investigation, the department of justice today renewed the nation wide bomb hunt with the prospect of adding scores to the number of arrests already made. The appointment of Flynn, reputed to be the foremost authority on anarchists and their activities in the country as head of the bureau, was taken here to mean a complete reorganization of the man-hunting division of the department of justice and the co-ordination of all other government agencies combating radicalism.

Round-up To Continue. With about 70 arrests in raids upon radical forces, officials declined today to state whether any of those detained have been definitely connected with the series of bomb outrages that has stirred the nation. They made it plain, however, that the round-up would continue. In the meantime, despite the discovery early yesterday of what appeared to be several valuable clues, the authorities today were still without success in their efforts to identify the man who was blown to pieces by the bomb which he had to end the life of Attorney General Palmer. The police worked far into the night attempting to assemble the body. However, it had been established that he boarded a train for Washington at Philadelphia and bought the hat he wore in that city.

Never in the history of the national capital have more precautions been taken to guard the lives of officials and other prominent men than were put into effect immediately following the bombing of the attorney's general's residence. The police operating with government agencies, placed guards at the homes of all cabinet members and other officials. The police guard at the White House, which had been depleted because of the absence of the president and of the necessity of additional police protection in outlying districts, was restored to its former quota. Every member of the capital police was guard at the structure and all other public buildings were closely watched.

Plan Rush Legislation. Chief Flynn today refused to discuss his plan of action in directing the bomb hunt. "I had hoped to rest, but I have been called back again," was his only comment. "However, it was upon excellent authority that the call was made," he answered.

Rush legislation to curb the activities of anarchists, to prevent the spread of their propaganda, to provide adequate punishment for outrages and to restrict, if not to prohibit, immigration will be the immediate effect of the bomb outrages, Representative Johnson said today.

The form of this legislation, he said will be taken up for discussion by the committee, when it meets tomorrow and the sentiment was to lose no time in getting the bill out of committee.

Johnson believed the anarchistic outbreaks in this country can be attributed in part to the lax immigration laws, which have "permitted the influx in recent years of undesirable aliens from Europe, who have herded in the eastern cities here hatching their schemes."

Yokohama Maid Rehearsal. Tomorrow evening the Glee Club of the American Mechanic will hold a full rehearsal of the "Yokohama Maid," in preparation for making a full Port Ewen Friday evening, where this comic Japanese opera will be repeated. All the members of the club are urged to be on hand promptly at 8 o'clock at the hall on Henry street so there will be no time wasted.

FEAR FURTHER TOLEDO RIOTS

As Result of Killing of Three By Soldier-Guards—Willis-Overland Plant, Employing 10,000, Closed—Major Asks Ohio Governor For Troops.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Toledo, Ohio, June 4.—With a resumption of the rioting, which last night cost three lives and resulted in the serious injury of eleven, feared hourly, authorities, were today awaiting action by Governor Cox on the appeal of Major Schrieber that troops be sent here to preserve order. The Willis-Overland plants, at which 10,000 men have been on strike for nearly a month, closed today, following the trouble last night.

Vice-President Earl said that the plants would not reopen until the trouble is adjusted. Union leaders denied responsibility for the rioting.

Late last night, a crowd surrounded one of the soldier guards, as he was walking on the street with a young lady. He took refuge in a fire house and sent in a riot call. Two truck loads of his comrades responded. Upon their arrival the crowd was ordered to disperse. It failed to do so and after firing one volley over the heads of the crowd, the soldier-guards turned their guns on the crowd. It died after the first volley leaving three dead and one wounded.

It was also pointed out that some federal action would be necessary to permit the sending of troops from Camp Sherman for Camp Custer.

PARADE CLOSING ELK CONVENTION

Albany Hunt Did Not Lessen Pleasure of B. P. O. E.—Vote to Buy $500,000 W. S. S.—67 Lodges March.

More than 5,000 persons, representing 67 lodges in the state are taking part in the big parade in Albany today which is the closing feature of the state convention of Elks. Tuesday was given over to amusement and entertainment. Long after the "11 o'clock toast" last night Elks were still jubilating secure in the confidence Albany was theirs to do with as they wished.

Aside from a morning session at which only routine business was transacted, the big feature Tuesday was the reconstruction meeting at the state armory. At the morning session the delegates, acting on the motion of William T. Byrne, of Albany lodge, voted to buy $500,000 worth of government war stamps.

Dr. C. A. Prosser, head of the bureau of vocational education of the federal government, spoke briefly at the reconstruction meeting, praising Elks for the part they played in reconstructing and re-educating America's crippled soldiers. He referred especially to the Elks' hospital at Boston, erected at a cost of $200,000 and turned over to the government as a reconstruction hospital. William E. Fitzsimmons, past exalted ruler of Albany lodge, presided, and motion pictures showing reconstruction work were shown.

Delegates Turn to Pleasures. The convention Tuesday was marked more by pleasure than business. Completing their sessions in the morning the delegates turned out in the afternoon for auto rides, sails to Troy and Midway Beach park, while a few remained in the city to hear concerts by the Tenth Infantry band and the New York Fire Department band.

The military band played in front of the Elks home in State street all during the day. After the parties, had returned from excursions and sporting events the military band played in Capital park and hundreds took advantage of the cool of the evening to remain there, dancing and listening.

Rubenstein Led New York Band. Large crowds listened to the famous New York Philharmonic band play at 8:30 o'clock. Led by Rubenstein, the celebrated composer, the band held to New York's traditions established here on inauguration days by the police band.

25 ADMITTED TO CITIZENSHIP

Russians Questioned on Bolshevism by Judge Hasbrouck—Germans and Austrians Become Americans—One Scotch Woman Takes Oath.

For the first time since the United States entered the world war, subjects of Germany and Austria were put into the melting pot in Ulster county, Tuesday afternoon and remoulded into Americans with full citizenship rights. Eight Germans and five Austrians renounced their allegiance to their respective countries and swore fealty to the Stars and Stripes. Four Russians, six Italians and two subjects of Great Britain were also naturalized. The Russians were closely interrogated at the court house by Justice G. D. E. Hasbrouck as to their knowledge and feelings toward Bolshevism. The Germans and Austrians were examined as to their loyalty, how they supported the government in the war, the amount of Liberty Bonds they purchased, etc. Another feature of naturalization court was the admitting of a woman to citizenship. Mrs. Mary Mac Rae of Scotland, desired to become an American citizen. Mrs. Mac Rae is a widow and has one child, a girl. She informed the court that although she was not anxious to vote herself, yet she wished her daughter to have all the rights. She was admitted.

The following applicants were admitted by Justice Hasbrouck: Gustave Krieger, Franz Theodore Barten, German; Matthias Zellmer, German; Morris Feuer, Austrian; Morris Reiter, Austrian; Henry G. Erickson, German; Walter Valczak, Austrian; Josef Heinz, Austrian; Robert Gohrer, Austrian; Frederick Peter Doehle, German; Jacob Schule, German; John Dapp, German; Frederick Wilhelm Blume, German; Ernest John Buech, Great Britain; Tony Natale, Italy; William Louis Bushoff, German; Lewis Wolper, Russian; Vincenzo Zoda, Italy; Louis Castello, Italy; Nathan DeVine, Russian; Mary Mac Rae, Great Britain; Sergio Antonio, Italy; Luigi Mantoe, Italy; Antonio Arallo, Italy.

The last three are returned soldiers, having secured their papers in camp. Tuesday's admittance was a matter of formality.

The following cases were continued until the next term. Henry Ernest Koping, Harry Darnofsky, Ginstino Anasano, Nathan Horowitz, Francesco de Pasquale, Stanley Rydzewski, Luigi Cosenza.

Good factories are not secured by paying their owners to come here or by marketing speculative and untuned stocks in the city. The Chamber of Commerce is Kingston's sales department, and it is working according to sound methods of salesmanship applied to a field which is not exceeded and rarely equalled in complexity of its problems by any sales department connected with a private business.

The president, secretary, office staff, industrial committee and other members of the Chamber of Commerce are working along definite lines which lead to definite and substantial results.

We have to know our goods, know our market, organize an efficient sales force, secure our prospects and close our sales. And we have to be constantly on the lookout to improve our goods.

There are men in the Chamber of Commerce who are ready and have repeatedly in the last three months answered calls from the president, the chairman of the industrial committee or the secretary to sit in conference with some man who has come here to discuss the location of a new plant. In this way every angle of every problem whether of raw materials, available labor force, electric power rates, freight rates, housing conditions, or any other material point has been presented to our visitors by men who know the facts.

Meanwhile we are reducing, more and more information to black and white, setting complete material in file in the office so that as many questions as possible may be answered even over the "phone" and that the secretary may have full information at hand when he goes out of town for an industrial conference. Before the summer is over we propose to make this material as complete as that which is secured by an industrial engineer making a systematic industrial survey.

Contact with prospects is established in many ways. Occasionally they drop into the secretary's office unannounced. Sometimes they write—and some of those who write have been attracted to Kingston by driving through it and have remembered the good impression which the city made upon them—sometimes members of the Chamber hear or read rumors of relocations and tell us of them, sometimes a letter to some concern that we believe ought to be interested in establishing a factory here brings a reply. Some prospects come from letters sent as a result of the fact that the Chamber keeps constantly informed of every proposed removal or expansion of an industrial concern anywhere in the United States, sends out any important newspaper or trade journal.

Then there is a vast amount of word-of-mouth which has to be done. One example of this is the case of a concern which had little preference as to location, provided it could find a quiet town and a bonus of $120,000. Such propositions are, of course, impossible.

Out of the various live prospects secured come a series of negotiations which bring the question of having any given one of them established in Kingston to a set of definite problems.

There have been eight cases of continued negotiations within the past three months, of which five and possibly six are still open. One very desirable establishment was lost because the company wanted immediately to extend its facilities and proper space was not available here. One was able to find a building elsewhere thoroughly adapted to its needs. Two have come up within the past ten days and are considering plans which we have submitted to them for the provision of adequate quarters which they can rent. One is holding its decision pending definite developments with respect to an expected increase in its business. One was delayed into decision by the death of the president of the company, and is seriously considering Kingston. Two are interested without having reached the point of definite action. One is making an exceptionally thorough search throughout the east, has thoroughly decided to remove its plant from its present location, prefers Kingston to any other which it has found, and would be here today had a suitable building been available for immediate occupancy. This concern has a minimum payroll of $2,000 weekly, which runs at times to $4,000, and has exceptional financial resources. The chances for bringing it here are good.

WILL CUT OFF WATER SERVICE Of Those Property Owners Who Use Hose Without First Securing Permits.

The inspectors of the water department have reported the names of many persons in the city, particularly during the heated term of the past few days, who are using hose without first obtaining a permit from the department. This is in direct violation of the rules of the department which prohibit the use of hose by any person unless a permit has first been procured. In accordance with these rules, water may be shut off and service discontinued at any property where such violation is found to exist and such action will be taken, if necessary, by the department in order that its rules be complied with.

A TRIO OF DRUNKS. John Corkery Tried To Assist In Community Sing.

Michael Coniger, better known as Mickey, was picked up by Officer Walker on Hurley avenue, near Taylor street, Tuesday afternoon on a charge of public intoxication, which is no new one for Mickey. He claimed in police court that he was simply overcome by the heat, and his hearing was adjourned until later. James Roach, who has a steady job at Dunkirk, was picked up near the Cornell shops the same afternoon by Officer Daunk. It was the first he had been drunk enough to be arrested, and he was given a chance to return to the job.

John Corkery was picked up at Hunter and Ravine streets, helpless drunk that evening by Officer Daunk. Placed in the city hall lock-up for the night he participated in the Community Sing. While the chorus was singing Smiles and other favorites Corkery was walling away at "How Dry I Am." He lives in Sawkill, and was given a chance to return home.

DEWITT WON PRIZE His Was Best Essay On Advantages Of Kingston—Awarded $10.

Virgil DeWitt won the prize offered by the industrial committee, of the Chamber of Commerce for the best essay on the advantages of Kingston, and has been awarded the $10 which was offered as a prize. Announcement to that effect was made at the high school this morning by Secretary Hudson of the Chamber of Commerce.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR NEW INDUSTRIES IN KINGSTON

Steady Work By C. of C. Industrial Committee Brings Numerous Factory Representatives Here—Erection of Buildings Much to be Desired—What Committee is Doing.

"Bringing good factories to Kingston is a matter of continuous work according to efficient business methods," is the way in which W. C. Kingman, chairman of the Industrial Committee summed up the factory location work which the Chamber of Commerce is carrying on.

Those who have not been closely in touch with this side of the Chamber's work may be surprised to learn that representatives of nine desirable concerns have been interested to the point of coming here for conference within the past three months.

Two and possibly three of these concerns would be operating here today if proper buildings had been available for them. And this matter of buildings has been involved in all of these cases as well as in others where lack of buildings has prevented negotiations from reaching a serious stage.

Sure but perhaps comparatively slow results will come from the working of the Chamber as Kingston's sales department even through the erection of buildings by the concerns themselves. But quick results will come through the erection here of industrial buildings which may be rented or sold. This is right now the most pressing task of the Chamber's industrial expansion work.

Buildings must be constructed. They can, as our experience in the last three months has demonstrated, be rented to substantial and well-established concerns, employing chiefly male labor. And these concerns are not asking us to pay them bonuses or to sell their stock. They are willing to pay legitimate commercial rents. They do want and are entitled to have available space in which they can establish themselves in Kingston and from which they can go on to larger space in buildings which they will erect later.

Good factories are not secured by paying their owners to come here or by marketing speculative and untuned stocks in the city. The Chamber of Commerce is Kingston's sales department, and it is working according to sound methods of salesmanship applied to a field which is not exceeded and rarely equalled in complexity of its problems by any sales department connected with a private business.

The president, secretary, office staff, industrial committee and other members of the Chamber of Commerce are working along definite lines which lead to definite and substantial results.

CHICAGO MAY BE "RED" RENDEZVOUS

Radicals Arrested Classed as "Directing Heads" After Being Traced By Similar Pamphlets to Those Found in Other Cities.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Chicago, June 4.—The bomb outrages in various parts of the country, including the placing of the bomb in the home of Attorney General Palmer at Washington, were planned and directed from "red quarters" in this city. This was intimated today by Federal agents and city detectives, who last night rounded up thirty or more known radicals, on the west side of Chicago. Included in those taken into custody and being held today for the government are several men classed by Federal agents as "directing heads" of the various radical outbreaks throughout the country, which during the past two months, have been consolidated into big organization, with the object of overthrowing the United States government within the next six months. According to one of the police officials, the raiders were located by tracing pamphlets. Copies of this pamphlet were found near the home of Attorney General Palmer and near the scenes of the bomb with branches in Boston, New York and other cities. The printer, who set the type of this pamphlet is also said to have been interested in last night's raids but agents refused to confirm the report. Daniel Colson, one of those arrested is said to have made disclosures. It became known today that post office authorities recently came into possession of letters outlining methods of the radicals.

Strike Bailed Legislators.

A strike once brought a legislature to a standstill, no less than the house of representatives at Washington. The officers of the house had notified the stenographers that their pay would be cut ten cents a folio, and the stenographers immediately struck, forcing a suspension of the sitting until matters were amicably arranged.

Began the Battle.

April 23 is the anniversary of the beginning of the building of the battle in 1779 by Charles V. who erected it as a protection against the English. The prison became famous in French history and was finally destroyed by the people in 1790. The key was sent by Thomas Paine to George Washington.

KINGSTON, N. Y., JUNE 4, 1919.

Austrian crowns are now reported worth only four cents—the coins, not the kingly headwear, which later are now worth even less.

Admiral Kolchak may not succeed in forcing the Bolshevik pirates to walk the plank, but he seems to have good prospects of driving them out of the seats of the mighty in all Russia.

England is justly proud of Hawker's feat, but "Britannia Rules the Waves" is scarcely the proper national song to greet him with after a Danish ship rescued him and an American ship picked up what the waves left of his seaplane.

A correspondent asks that enough red tape be wound off the official red spool to permit Sergeant York to take his rifle home with him. After performing such marvels with his army rifle Sergeant York would certainly seem to have earned a permanent proprietorship in the weapon.

The "perfect" man has been found in the person of one George A. Saxton, Jr., who has been passed for West Point by the army examining board as 100 per cent perfect mentally and physically. Of course, there is no announcement of the percentage of moral perfection, which there was no means of ascertaining.

The leading "German" club of Reading, Pa., greeted the return of the Twenty-eighth division by hanging out a German flag. We are likely to hear more of that sort of thing as the Presidential election of next year approaches and "German Americans" by the million are counted for their votes by contending parties.

It is said to be matter of record that the American army during its service in France smoked 425,000,000 cigarettes a month. The doughboys found time to win the fight, however, notwithstanding this average indulgence in about 7 cigarettes a day per man—a more temperate indulgence, by the way, than that of many civilians at home.

The Galt House of Louisville, Ky., has ended its days as a hotel and now becomes a warehouse. The event is notable because the Galt House was the last "Dickens hotel" to remain standing, with the exception of the West Point Hotel. In his "American Notes" published in 1842 Charles Dickens, though critical of this country in many particulars, was generous in praise of a number of the American hotels at which he stopped, saying of the Galt House that he and his party were "as handsomely lodged there as though we were in Paris."

VICTORY LOAN FIGURES.

It is gratifying to learn that the Victory Loan of $4,500,000,000 was subscribed to the amount of $5,250,000,000. There were twelve million subscriptions to the Victory Loan, as compared with twenty-one million for the fourth Liberty Loan, seventeen million for the third, 10,020,000 for the second and 4,500,000 for the first. This falling off in the number of subscriptions as compared with the third and fourth loans, notwithstanding the fact that the Victory Loan offered a higher rate of interest, shows that the small subscribers throughout the country were patriotically thinking more of aiding the government than of making a safe and profitable investment. The people came forward and subscribed to the third and fourth loans in the largest numbers because the excitement, the suspense and the consciousness of urgent need were then greatest. The Victory Loan, coming when the war was safely over, naturally met with a smaller response numerically.

HOPE FOR RUSSIA.

The report comes from Paris that in the high councils of the Peace Conference it has been decided to recognize the Kolchak government in Russia. Even if this be premature, it is an indication of growing confidence in the cause of Kolchak and the early establishment of a sane government in the land of long continuing nightmare. The late reports from Russia are encouraging. The steady advance from the east of Admiral Kolchak's armies, which have already reached the Volga, is said to be matched by the forward movement from the north and west of the Allies and the Estonians, and, with the open season of summer at hand, rapid developments are thought likely. If July or August should indeed see the end of the tragic farce of Bolshevik government, the world will have a sigh of relief and depressed Russia will lift its head in hope. Time will show how many of the hideous atrocities attributed to the Bolsheviks are verities, but there can be no question that this government claiming to represent the people is in reality class government of the worst sort. While supposedly favoring the proletariat, it openly oppresses the middle classes and is even more autocratic and tyrannical in method than the government of the former Czar. During the year and a half of their reign Lenin and Trotsky have made Russia both an economic and moral chaos by their experiments in extreme Socialism coupled with tyranny and oppression. It is to be hoped that a real republic, a sane government for and by the whole of a free people, will soon begin its rise out of the ruin Bolshevism has wrought.

"No, I don't want any insurance! Didn't you see 'No Admittance' on the door?" "Agent—'Sure I did. The Germans had 'No Admittance' written in barbed wire and bullets outside their trenches, but we got in just the same."—Life.

"Wealth does not bring happiness." "Maybe not," replied Mr. Dustin Stax. "Maybe the feeling I had the other day when I made a couple of million in the market wasn't happiness, but it was something that answered the purpose very closely."—Washington Star.

Redd—"They say that a fish never stops growing." Greene—"Well, it hasn't anything on a fish story, at that."—Yonkers Statesman.

"You do not seem to take any great pride in your oratorical ability." "I have seen harrowing instances," replied Senator Sorghum, "of a man's taking so much interest in his oratory that he forgot to watch the people who were attending to plain, practical politics."—Washington Star.

Society Mother (entertaining)—"Don't forget, my dear, that in conversation the interest must not be allowed to flag." Daughter—"But I'm sure I do my best, mamma!" CROWD READING ROOMS.

A. L. A. Finds Great Demand From Soldiers For Books.

Books and magazines in France are playing to capacity crowds of doughboys every night.

As a result of the enormous demand for reading matter, the American Library Association is asking for more books for use on returning transports. No books as yet can be withdrawn from France for this purpose. In view of the crowds which fill the regional libraries established by the A. L. A. at fifteen points in France and the portion of Germany held by the American army.

The A. L. A. Librarian at Le Mans, one of the library centers, writes of the comfort and pleasure the men take in the library.

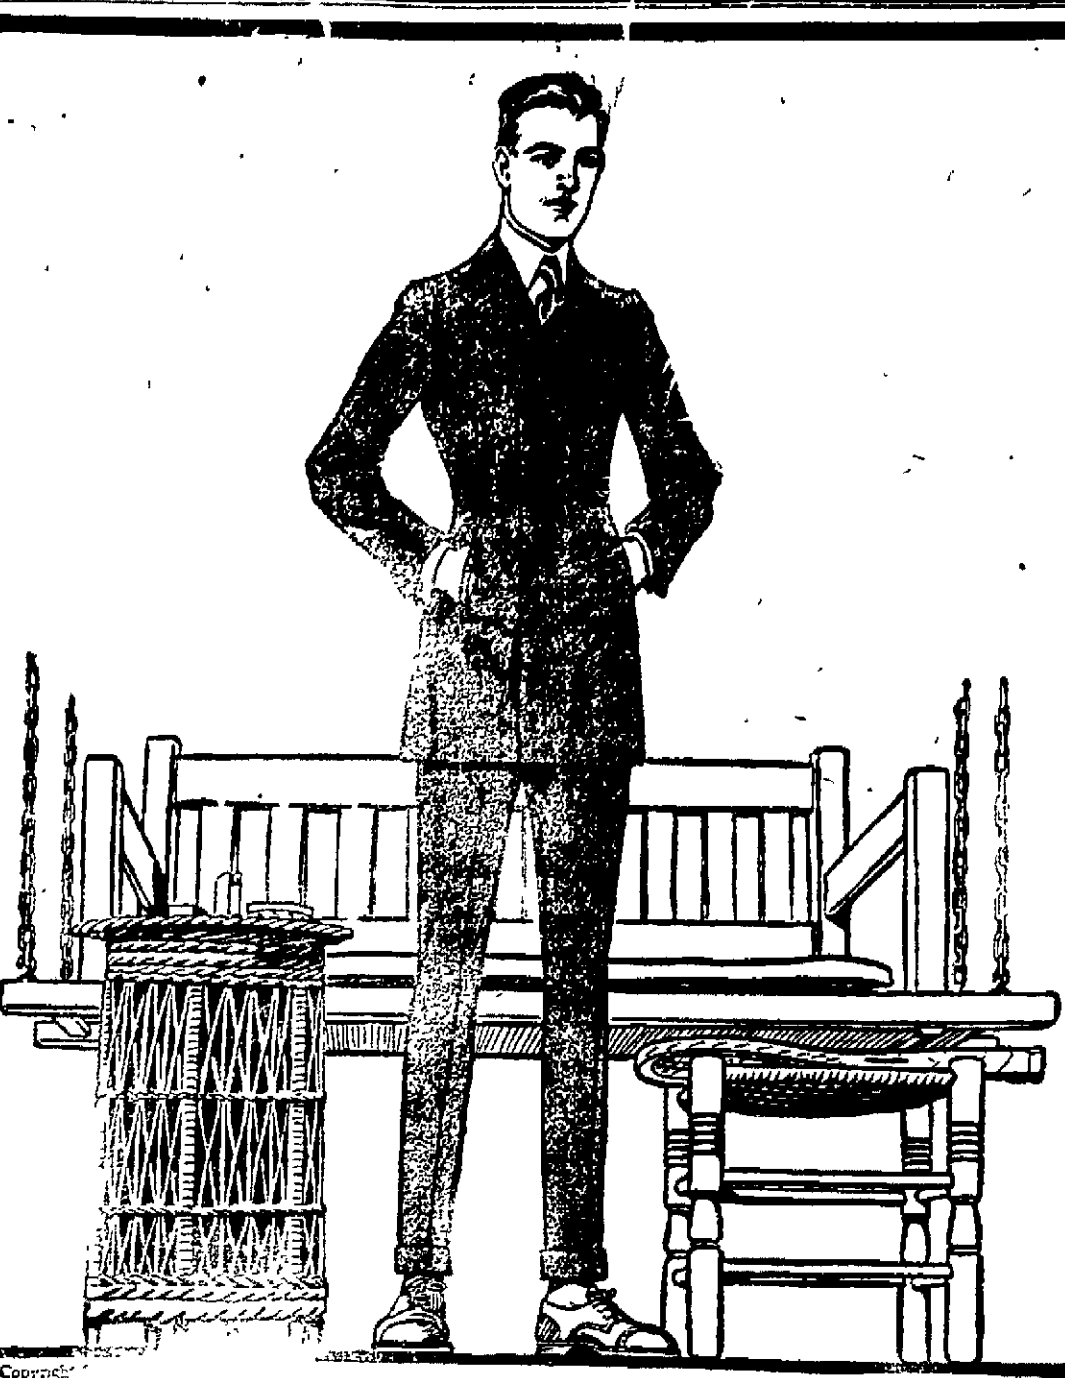

"I look from the window in the evening into a muddy courtyard where a file of men waits to come into the canteen and the reading and writing rooms. Many are from remote parts of the area, and by way of celebrating their leave from camp will spend the night sleeping on the stone floor here. They come into our small, crowded smoky reading room as many as can get in—to security and warmth and forgetfulness of their monotonous life.

"Books! We haven't seen them since we bit the trenches. Hadn't time or thought for them there, but it's awful to be without them now that the fighting's over."

While books are so needed among the troops not yet assigned to convey the A. L. A. is reluctant to withdraw any for transport use. Fresh and interesting fiction such as men like is being collected by the public library, to be placed aboard the steamships.

CONNELLY HAD A NEW ORDINANCE

Of Course It Was a Theater Ordinance and It Was Adopted—Fixes License Fee at $140—Will Mayor Canfield Veto It?

After slumbering peacefully for several months after a strenuous two-years fight, the theater ordinance question awoke and stretched itself at the regular monthly meeting of the city fathers Tuesday evening, when its sponsor, Alderman Connelly, of the Eleventh ward, introduced it in a new dress, and according to the latest fashion at advanced rates.

In brief it fixes the license fee at $35 a year for houses seating under 200, and at $70 a year for houses seating between 200 and 500, while theaters seating more than 500 will have to pay $140 a year. The theater ordinance in force at the present time fixes a flat rate of $25 no matter how large or small the seating capacity. The $140 rate would affect the Orpheum, the Y. M. C. A. Auditorium, the Kingston Opera House and Keeney's Theater.

Preston Wanted to Know.

The aldermen began to stir around in their seats as City Clerk Doremus began to read the ordinance handed up by the alderman from the Eleventh, and smiles began to play around the mouths of those who had followed the theater question for the past two years.

As the city clerk finished the reading, Alderman Preston secured the floor, and turning to Alderman Connelly asked what length of time the ordinance was for, as it was not specified.

"An ordinance is in force until repealed," replied Alderman Connelly. "I don't think this ordinance is in order," said Alderman Preston, turning to President Watts, "for my impression is that he have a similar one on the table."

"I am sure I don't know," said Alderman Connelly.

"We went over this matter thoroughly last year," said Alderman Preston, again turning to Alderman Connelly.

"Yes, and the year before," replied the alderman from the Eleventh, while some in the audience snickered.

Intimated "Soaking Some One," Alderman Preston had something further on his mind about the matter and proceeded to unload it. He said that it looked as though "we wanted to soak some one." He said that here was a new theater that had come here and spent $150,000, and that people would have a queer idea of Kingston if we were going to "soak every one who located here and spent a lot of money."

"That is all beside the mark," interrupted Alderman Connelly. "If you were paying you would think so," retorted Alderman Preston. He continued stating that in his opinion if the license fees were increased it would mean that theaters now charging 15 cents would raise to 20 cents, and that in the end the public would pay.

Connelly Says Something.

Alderman Connelly secured the floor after Alderman Preston had sat down, and said that a certain religious organization had endeavored to secure a local theater for a lecture and the management said they could have it for one night for $100. "I don't think I need say more," said Alderman Connelly. "I have the interest of the city at heart," said Alderman Schick of the Third, "and so I second—Alderman Connelly's motion."

"You Had One Too."

"You had one too," said Alderman Connelly, "last year," reminded Alderman Preston turning to Alderman Schick.

"Yes," replied the alderman from the Third, "but I introduced it knowing it would not be adopted."

Assess Luxuries, Said Mann.

At this point Alderman Mann of the Sixth took a hand in the discussion. He said that he believed we should tax luxuries.

"They are taxed already," reminded Alderman Preston.

What Schick Believed.

Alderman Schick of the Fourth had decided opinions in the matter and, unburdened, himself to the effect that the theaters were cleaning up from $700 to $900 a week, and that he believed instead of $140 fee they should be soaked $250 a year. We need the money.

A young man wearing glasses in the rear of the chamber evidently a movie fan, applauded Alderman Schick's sentiments.

Roosa Wanted to Know.

"Have we not got an ordinance already on the table?" asked Alderman Roosa of the Second of the chair.

"There are several around somewhere," replied President Watts, while the other aldermen smiled.

"Can't the clerk look them up?" asked Alderman Preston.

"We have an ordinance before us now that has been properly presented," said Alderman Schick, "the other are dead; they are pigeon-holed."

How Vote Stood.

After some further discussion pro and con the vote was taken and every alderman voted in favor of adopting the Connelly ordinance with the exception of Aldermen Preston and Roosa.

The ordinance was declared adopted.

Will Mayor Veto It?

The burning question of the hour now is what action Mayor Canfield will take in the matter. Will he veto the ordinance?

Other matters taken up will be found elsewhere.

TO SETTLE SUNDAY CARE NEEDED FOR BALL JUNE 17 QUALITY EGGS

At Least the Aldermen Will Hold a Special Session to Consider the Question at That Time—No One Had Ordinance Tuesday, so Nothing Was Done.

The last thing the aldermen did Tuesday evening at the regular monthly session was to adjourn to the evening of June 17, at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of taking up and settling the question of Sunday baseball in Kingston. Alderman Schick offered the motion, and it was unanimously adopted. President Watts stated he had been assured that an ordinance would be offered at that time, and the matter could be definitely disposed of.

Every alderman was in his seat
when the session was called to order, and every seat outside the rail in the council chamber was taken by the large delegation of laymen from practically every Protestant denomination in the city, who had been selected by the various churches to represent the congregations and oppose Sunday baseball where an admission fee was charged, or Sunday movies.

Among the clergymen present were

Written Protests

Among the written protests against a "commercial Sunday" were the Monday Club, the Y. M. C. A., a number of voters of the Twelfth ward, the Kingston Local Union of Christian Endeavor, the Bible class of the Fair Street Reformed Church, about three hundred Fifth ward voters and the congregation of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church.

They were all read and filed.
The same action was taken on a petition favoring Sunday baseball and signed with about fifty names.

Purvis Starts Something

While the city fathers were disposing of the accumulation of the month's business there was a tense air of excitement felt in the council chamber, and the large audience listened carefully to everything that was brought up and read. Matters taken up and disposed of will be found elsewhere in The Freeman.

While the aldermanic current was flowing smoothly along Alderman Purvis offered a resolution that the corporation counsel and the committee on laws and rules draft an ordinance legalizing Sunday baseball between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and report at the next meeting of the council.

Alderman Schick's Opinion.
Alderman Schick objected to the resolution and stated that the laws and rules committee had no right to draw one up. It was up to the aldermen. One of them could present an ordinance and it could then be referred to the laws and rules committee.

Alderman Connelly agreed with Alderman Schick, while Alderman Preston said with a smile that it would only mean that the ordinance would be referred back to the committee on laws and rules and that committee would then pass on its own work.

Mann Wanted to Know.
Alderman Mann wanted to know "what have we got a corporation counsel for?" He told me himself he was directed by the village board of Saugerties to draw up an ordinance favoring Sunday baseball and he did it. Why can't he draw up an ordinance for us?"

"Change It," Suggested Preston.
"Change the resolution to read that the corporation counsel draw up the ordinance and eliminate the words referring to the committee on laws and rules," suggested Alderman Preston.

"As the resolution now reads," remarked Alderman Schick, "it is out of order." The alderman from the Third further said, "What alderman will draw up such an ordinance. I won't draw it up, and I am on the laws and rules committee."

The alderman's sentiments were applauded by the audience.

How It Was Settled.
"I move we lay the resolution on the table," said Alderman Preston securing the floor.

"I move the resolution be put up to the corporation counsel and we adjourn the matter until one week from tonight," said Alderman Kelly of the Fifth.

President Watts informed the alderman from the Fifth that he hardly thought that was an amendment.
"It simply refers it to the corporation counsel to bring it up one week from tonight," replied Alderman Kelly.

After some further discussion a call for the vote on the amendment was heard and the vote was taken.

How They Voted.
Those who voted in favor of laying the Purvis resolution on the table were Aldermen Preston, Roomer, Schick, Van Valkenburgh, Higgins,
Connelly and Hull, a vote of 7.
Those against were Aldermen Schick, Kelly, Mann, Kirschner, Kull-mann and Purvis, 6 votes.

That Settled It.
The Purvis resolution was laid on the table, and the baseball question did not pay up again until just before adjourning when Alderman Schick's motion to hold a special session to consider the matter was adopted.

Other matters taken up will be found elsewhere.

His Regret.
One showed old farmer who had found his first lecture on chicken feeding children as he did about ratoms for some and dogs "his family have been a deep deplorable loss."

Summer Demands More Than Usual Precautions—Remove Broody Hens
From Nests at Once.

During the summer the poultry-man must exercise special care if he is to produce market eggs of the best quality. The nests should be kept clean, and broody hens should be removed from the nests and confined as soon as noticed, as the high body temperature of the hen causes the eggs to become heated within a few hours. If the eggs are fertile they may be rendered unfit for use by the hen sitting on them even overnight.

Eggs being held for market should be kept in a cool, well-ventilated, but not drafty, place where the air is slightly damp, say the poultry workers at the state college at Ithaca, N.
Y. The temperature should be as near 45 degrees F. as possible and never over 65 degrees. The ordinary cellar, if not unusually damp, is the best place on the average farm.

If eggs are kept in a warm place the quality is rapidly lowered as shown by the darkened yolk when the eggs are candled. Such eggs are known on the market as "heated."

Cause of "Shrunken Eggs."
The contents of eggs kept in a dry place or where a current of air strikes them will evaporate, causing "shrunken" eggs. Neither shrunken nor heated eggs will bring the top market price. Even if held under ideal conditions eggs should be marketed at least once a week and oftener if possible.

It is important to produce only infertile eggs for market. Fertile eggs deteriorate much more rapidly than infertile. The reason for this is that when the eggs have been fertilized by mating the chick starts development at 68 degrees to 70 degrees F., but soon dies, causing the egg to decay rapidly. The partial development of the chick embryo and its subsequent death produces eggs known as "blood rings." Such eggs are unfit for human consumption.

Don't Kill Good Roosters.

To produce only infertile market eggs the male birds should be allowed to run only with the breeding hens and with them only during the hatching season. When the hatching season is over, all male birds that are not especially valuable as breeders should be killed or sold. Those that are kept should be confined apart from the hens.

The mistake should not be made, however, of killing desirable males.
Good and mature breeding males should be retained until better ones are found.

ject may be found in Bulletin 353
Reading Course Lesson 133, containing an egg candling chart, which may

AGRICULTURE.

Pasture for hogs helps reduce the cost of pork production. Hogs may eat dirty food, but they thrive best on food which is clean.

There is scarcely a community or village in New York without a serious menace in the wreckage of buildings, burned and not removed or repaired.

Remember all the things you said you'd do for the boy once he got home from France? Don't forget them now and he'll find the old farm is not such a bad place after all.

When the merchant has some desirable goods to sell he says so in the paper—not usually in a little want ad but in big type in "display space."
Maybe here's a hint for the farmer with two or three choice cows to sell.

Not many farmers have over-equipped their farms with silos. And some have none at all. "Silos and the Production and Feeding of Silage" is a small booklet but full of meat. It's R. C. F. 114 and obtainable free of charge from the state college of agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y.

Tilly is a New York state cow who is entitled to the designation "some cow." The rest of her name is Alcatraz No. 123458, but the fact which makes her famous is that in six consecutive years she has a record of 156,770.1 pounds of milk and 6141.36 pounds of butter. Tilly is a Holstein. Purebred? Of course.

More Mileage
Adjustment on Goodrich Tires
Fabrics - 6,000 Miles
Cords--8,000 Miles

TO automobile owners and drivers—to Goodrich Dealers
—the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company herewith declares a more-mileage adjustment on Goodrich Tires—6,000 miles for SAFETY TREADS, and 8,000 miles for SILVERTOWN CORDS.

Fix these new Goodrich Adjustment figures firmly in your mind—6,000 miles for SAFETY TREADS—8,000 miles for SILVERTOWNS—instead of the 3,500 and 5,000 miles respectively heretofore in force.

This new adjustment stands back of all Goodrich Tires, including tires already purchased in the hands of user or dealer.

Goodrich Tires in actual usage on road and pavement are today unfolding such matchless mileage, regularly in excess of adjustment basis, that Goodrich knows it has the strongest, most durable tires the rubber industry has produced.

The Goodrich adjustment mileage is increased because Goodrich knows the mileage in its tires, and it wants to give every motorist a share in their economy, and all-around benefits.

Go to a Goodrich Dealer, and buy a Goodrich Tire—or buy four Goodrich Tires—sure that with fair and square usage a Safety Tread will render you at least 6,000 miles; and a Silvertown Cord at least 8,000.

OPTIMISM ON MEMORIAL DAY

Abbi Brav of Temple Emanuel Sees
Opening of Door of Humanity's Hope When Swords Shall Be Broken.

"The Door of Hope" was the subject of a Memorial Day sermon by Rabbi Brav of the Temple Emanuel, based on the text Hosea 11-17, and those present were fortunate to hear a scholarly and carefully prepared message appropriate to the day. The sermon follows:

Text, Hosea, 11-17.
And the valley of trouble for a door of hope.

It was characteristic of all the prophets of Israel to be optimistic in the midst of world wide agonies and universal despair. Beneath the dark clouds of despondency, they beheld the silver lining of hope and their message of cheer and comfort penetrated the hearts of their people, which enabled them to outlive disasters and many calamities. The prophet Hosea expressed this optimism in the pregnant verse, "The valley of trouble into a door of hope. Be not discouraged, oh my people," says the prophet, "for the valley of disaster will but open to you the door of hope. Better days will come when the sword, and the battle will be removed from your midst, and you will all dwell safely and securely each under his own vine and fig tree and none shall make you afraid."

The world in our days has literally passed through the valley of trouble and the door of hope is just beginning to be opened.

Century old despotisms have been obliterated and while in their downfall, the social and political world was shaken from its center to circumference nevertheless the dawn of universal emancipation of mankind was ushered in.

It is but natural that after sifting the nations in the sieve of democracy, the shaft of unbridled individualism and anarchy should cause a tornado of destruction and a cyclone of ruin and devastation. The aftermath of a terrible world war, a war which has abolished old systems of government with their entrenched autocracy and with armament of destruction—the aftermath of such a world war was bound to create restlessness and instability.

Can a nation be created in one day? asked the prophet in ancient times and similarly we may ask "Can democracy be created in one day?"

Before the world can comprehend the significance of a government of the people, for the people and by the people it is bound to pass through the valley of trouble so that it can more profoundly appreciate the blessings of orderly government supported by the solid and immovable pillars of law, righteousness and justice.

The door of humanity's hope, however, has already been opened, and the prophets' day when the sword shall be broken from the land has been ushered in.

Militarism with its forced conscription which has been the curse of mankind, and which has saddled so many homes, is to be relegated to the archives of history and right and not might is to rule the world. Our people especially has passed through the valley of disaster. Thousands of them have been brutally massacred by infuriated mobs and hundreds of thousands of them are today without homes and shelter.

We, American Jews, are the only door of hope for them in the present emergency, and can we dare we shut the door of hope in the face of such overwhelming disasters?

It is true we have already given, but we must give again. If the agonizing cries of orphans and widows and of helpless men and women are to pierce and penetrate our hearts. Fear extracting appeals have been sent to us, and we must rise again to the height of our duty. For the liberal nations of the world and especially our beloved nation have also opened the door of hope to our woe stricken coreligionists across the sea.

Congress has issued a protest against the barbarities and inhumanities that have been perpetrated on our people and when the United States speaks even savages must tremble.

Our nation was also instrumental in bringing about the inclusion of a religious toleration act in the treaty of peace and in the League of Nations.

All races, all creeds and all people will have the right to worship God in accordance with the dictates of conscience and all are to enjoy the privilege of the equality of citizenship.

This is true Americanism transplanted into a benighted and intolerant world. Memorial Day we celebrate today, and we lovingly remember the heroes and martyrs who suffered, died and died that the star of humanity, the star of tolerance and equality, the star of freedom may shine brilliantly, luminously and gloriously on the firmament of the whole world.

From the days of Washington in revolutionary times, through the days of Lincoln in the Civil War up to the time of President Wilson, our nation has staunchly defended the inalienable rights of men, and the Star Spangled Banner has indeed in our days made tyranny tremble all over the face of the globe.

Our heroes have died and died, but the principles for which they died are eternal and imperishable. If the door of hope has been opened to humanity, these heroes who died in the Revolutionary, Civil and present world wars have opened it and it is for us, the living, to be true to the principles for which they sacrificed their lives.

By reminding ourselves annually of their heroic deeds, the flame of patriotism is kindled anew in our hearts, and the sacrifice they made upon the altar of the American nation will lead us to guard sacredly their glorious heritage.

The door of hope has also been opened to the realization of the ancient Jewish dream that the "ransomed of the Lord shall return and they shall go to Zion with everlasting joy on their heads. Joy and gladness shall be found in her thanksgiving and the voice of melody."

Those of our people, who are anxious to return to the land of their fathers, will be encouraged to do so by the liberal nations of the world.

How the Jewish conscience has yearned for the realization of this hope.

There were times when none of the children, whose ancestors lived in the land of Israel, dared even to visit the land, which was the birth place of judges, prophets, sages, heroes and martyrs.

Tyrants in the past have prohibited the descendants of the prophets even to catch a glimpse of the land of prophecy and inspiration, the land from which the Jewish people were exiled, by blood-thirsty despots, ambitious to crush the whole world with their fists of wickedness.

History is being remade today. The conscience of humanity has brought about the day of reckoning.

The policy of ancient nations to subdue the whole world has been summoned before the bar of justice. No longer can we crush a little nation because it is little. Its right to live and develop its racial, linguistic and national aspirations is being vindicated.

In the redistribution of nations, in this plan of self-determination, millions of our brethren will be encouraged to rehabilitate the ruins of their ancient fatherland, and when they will constitute the majority in the land autonomy will be granted to them.

No nation that is today under the protection of England is oppressed and even during war times the colonial dependencies of England enjoyed perfect autonomy.

Given the choice between England and Turkey, the unanimous opinion of the Jewish people and of all civilized mankind is that England should have the sovereignty over Palestine.

Under her protectorate the land of Israel will again be what it was in ancient times, a land flowing with milk and honey.

On this Memorial Day then, sacred to the American people because of the sublime principles for which our heroes have sacrificed their lives, principles of equality and equity, of religious toleration and political freedom, we may say with the prophet Hosea "The valley of trouble into a door of hope."

Never again will the world groan under the yoke of despotism, never again will the human conscience be stifled, never again will little nations be crushed because they are little.

Yes, the door of hope is open, open to all mankind and open to all Israel.

But while the valley of Jewish trouble, the valley of Jewish tears still remains as a result of shifting national boundaries, let us American Jews open the door of hope to our coreligionists across the sea by heeding again the cries of orphans and widows.

Amen.

Come and See the New Chandler Touring Car

Most Beautiful Big-car Offering of the Season, and the Price is Only $1795

THE new Chandler touring model is here. We have waited for it. Old Chandler owners have waited for it. It's here now and we are all proud and happy. The Chandler of the past has had splendid bodies, but the new Chandler touring car even surpasses its immediate fore-runner in beauty of line, in bigness, in comfort of its cushioning, in the nicety of its custom-like workmanship and in its lustrous finish.

The new Chandler Touring is a big car. Its high hood and radiator, its broad cowl, its wide and deep doors give it distinctive appearance.

And it RIDES,—it rides like a dream

Nothing has been cut out to permit the delivery of this fine big touring car at the Chandler price. Indeed, many little details of nicety are added. The back curtain window is beveled plate glass. The clear-vision side curtains fit snugly and open with the doors. There are detachable rear quarter-bow curtains. There are outside door handles.

Features which have been standard Chandler qualities in the past are continued. The cushions are upholstered in genuine hand-buffed plaited leather. The front compartment floor boards are covered with heavy gray linoleum, aluminum-bound. The two comfortable auxiliary chairs fold away, entirely concealed, when not in use.

Carrying this Handsome Body Is the Famous Chandler Chassis

You will choose the new Chandler touring for its bigness and its comfort and its handsome dignity. But you will choose it, too, for its mechanical excellence. Fifty thousand Chandler owners know, better than we can tell you, what a good car the Chandler is. The famous Chandler motor and the sturdy excellence of the whole chassis make the Chandler notable among fine cars.

The Chandler continues for 1919 all its distinguished mechanical features; solid cast aluminum motor base extending from frame to frame, silent chain drive for the auxiliary motor shafts, annular ball bearings, Bosch Magneto ignition and many other features of design and equipment characteristic of the highest-class motor car construction.

BISHOP ANDERSON HERE SUNDAY

Twenty-five years ago St. James' M. E. Church dedicated its splendid church edifice, at Fair and Pearl streets, today one of the finest buildings in this city. At that time the Rev. W. F. Anderson was the popular pastor. Since then he has been made a bishop of the Methodist church, and known for his ability throughout the United States. Sunday, June 8th, Bishop Anderson will preach at St. James', and many will be delighted to hear him at the morning service. The evening service will be popular in its character, as some of the other churches will omit their services that evening in order that their people may join with St. James'. Bishop Anderson will give his thrilling address on "America's Call to the Moral Leadership of the World"—an address based on three trips to all the war fronts during four and a half years, which extended as far as to Africa. He has just returned from Europe and has some of the latest news of the conditions to impart. A silver offering will be taken for work among the needy in the war zones.

Where Are Men To Lead?

There isn't a lad but wants to grow manly and true at heart. And every lad would like to know the secret we impart.

He doesn't desire to slack or shirk. Oh, haven't you heard him plead? He'll follow a man to play or work. If only the man will lead.

Where are the men to lead today? Sparring an hour or two. Teaching the lads the game to play. Just as a man should do? Village and slum are calling "Come!" Here are the lads, indeed, who can tell what they might become.

If only the men will lead? Motor and golf, and a winter sport. Fill up the time a lot. But wouldn't you like to feel your'd taught?

Even a boy a knut? Country and home depend on you. Character must we lead? How can a boy know what to do, if there isn't a man to lead?

Where are the men to lead a hand. Guiding at boyhood's side? Men who will rise in every land. Bringing the "Great Divide." Nation and flag and tongue unite. Joining each lass and crewed. Here are the boys who would do right.

But where are the men to lead? Large Public Function. S. J. Harrison of Gardiner is raising potatoes on a large scale this year. He has just purchased the Canfield Sprayer Co., an Iron Age Tractor Sprayer.

PEACE DELEGATES NEAR TO UNITY

By Telegram to The Freeman. Paris, June 4.—Following a series of reports, belief was expressed today that a decision would be reached on the peace treaty today.

Thomas W. Lamont conferred with Premier Lloyd George and Bernard N. Baruch with the French experts. While it is understood that a settlement is imminent, the French attitude is absolutely dependent upon Premier Clemenceau, who is adamant against any change from the present plan. It is not believed that Premier Lloyd George will be able to force any change of principles inasmuch as in March, he was quoted as saying that a majority of the British parliament was demanding that he stand pat, whereas today he declares the majority has shifted.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wynkoop received a letter from Sergeant Harry Brown who is stationed at Poughkeepsie, France on Thursday last. Harry writes he is happy and all he has to do is sleep and keep clean. As he sprained his ankle sometime ago and just got out of the hospital and is too lame to do anything, he thinks he will be home by the last of August.

School closed here on Tuesday last. Miss Kolb has given very good satisfaction and we hope she will return to us another year. She left for her home in Kingston on Wednesday morning.

There will be services here in the school house on Friday evening, June 7, by Rev. G. W. Thompson who will give an illustrated sermon. We hope to see a full house.

The Boy Scout

By J. H. Taylor

He's a clever little fellow with a smile and with a will. And he looks just like a soldier, but he isn't trained to kill.

A boy in size—but watch him—in his doings he's a man. He's on the job and pledges to help, where, when, and as he can.

Beside the schoolwork training, he has just the right amount. Of common-sense learning to produce the things that count.

His eye is peeled for action, and his hand for work is bared. And he's marching to the music of the motto.

"Be Prepared!"

He's not a gallery artist, he's in line for something higher. Scouty knows the way to help 'em in a wreck or at a fire.

And many are the wounded ones that owe the lad a debt. For he it was who knew the spot to twist the tourniquet.

And the boy from out the river that seemed drowned beyond a doubt? Why, Scouty did his first aid stunt and soon put fears to rout.

It's look around and help for his—the utmost never's spared. For he's marching to the music of the motto.

"Be Prepared!"

DANIELS NOW URGES SMALL NAVY

Secretary of Navy Says League of Nations Adoption Makes Big Fleet Unnecessary.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Washington, June 4.—Without waiting for the acceptance of this or any other nation of the covenant of a league of nations embraced in the peace treaty, Secretary of the Navy Daniels has authoritatively announced to the house committee on naval affairs that the administration has abandoned all thought of building an American navy which would be equal to that of Great Britain by 1925.

This about face was executed in the face of statements made by President Wilson that "the United States should ultimately possess incomparably the most adequate navy in the world," and of the general board of the navy that "the navy of the United States should ultimately be equal to the most powerful maintained by any other nation of the world. It should gradually be increased to this point by such a rate of development year by year as may be permitted by the facilities of the country, but the limit above defined should be attained not later than 1925."

Since these statements were made last autumn and winter, after the conclusion of the armistice, Japan has assumed a threatening attitude on the Pacific, has been given vast territories in China which might threaten the "open door," and her ambassador has announced that she is "not too proud to fight." In the interregnum the territories and populations under the aegis of the British Empire throughout the globe have increased from one-fourth of both to about one-third of both. The first of these powers is considered here to be certain of further aggrandizement and commercial rivalry with the United States, and the latter of ultimate rivalry with us on the Atlantic and perhaps on the Pacific as well.

Representative Kelley of Michigan, all about an advocate of a big navy, asked the secretary of the navy this question: "Then the program authorized by the house at the last session was in the nature of a notice served on the world as to what America intended to do if the League of Nations failed?" "Mr. Kelley asks questions and I dodge them," replied Mr. Daniels. "There are only two courses we can take, one to end naval construction if the League of Nations plan succeeds, and the other to build the greatest navy in the world if it fails. Since the League has been adopted we ought to show our faith by not increasing the size of our navy. When President Wilson advocated a new construction program the peace had not been concluded."

America's Effect on the Peace Treaty. When the United States declared war upon Germany, the British and the European press unanimously declared that the event marked a turning point in history. Only the peace treaty itself shows to what an extent that prophecy has been fulfilled. The part that American resources and American military power has played in producing the present situation is now clearly apparent. There are probably few people in the world today who believe that the scene recently enacted at Versailles would ever have taken place had the United States not intervened in the contest. The fundamental fact which really makes the Versailles treaty so significant is that it is a world and not an European settlement.—Burton J. Hendricks in the World's Work for June.

BOICE PUPILS DANCE TONIGHT

This evening at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's Hall will be held the exhibition of aesthetic and interpretive dancing by the pupils of Miss Delta Boice for the benefit of the Girl Scouts' camp fund.

There are no reserved seats so that those who have not yet purchased tickets but expect to pay at the door, will have the same chance to get as advantageous position as the foxy buyer who gave the little Girl Scout his money a week ago.

The performance begins at 8 o'clock and there will be a big crowd, for it's the last chance to see this beautiful entertainment as a whole.

Many who saw it at the opera house two weeks ago are planning to go again, and will find their enjoyment doubled by the repetition.

COMMON COUNCIL IN BUSY SESSION

Aldermen to Arrange for Celebrating The Fourth—Want Streets Repaired—An Echo of Boice Case—Other Matters.

In addition to the Sunday baseball question and the adoption of a new Connolly theater ordinance the city fathers transacted considerable business at the regular monthly session Tuesday evening.

Mayor Canfield sent in the nominations of John E. Mahar and Frank Kaufman to succeed themselves as members of the board of health, and the nominations were approved by the council.

Mayor Canfield also called attention to the new state law regarding the zoning of the city. President Warriss will later appoint a committee to investigate and report in the matter.

Mills & Company wrote regarding making a monthly audit of the city books and the communication was referred to the finance, ways and committee.

$1,602.50 on Boice Bond.

City Clerk Doremus read a communication from Corporation Counsel W. D. Brimmer regarding the receipt of a check for $1,662.50 as part dividend on the bond of Frank M. Boice, a former city treasurer, who was found guilty of misappropriating funds of the city, and is now serving time in prison.

The police board wrote that it would like to be reimbursed $502.06 from the amount of the check and stated that that item figured largely in the Boice trial.

After some discussion it was decided to reimburse that fund and also one or two other small funds and that balance of the check should be turned into the general city fund.

Want $700 Damages.

The corporation counsel also reported that Michael Mitchell and Jacobina Forst had brought a suit against the city to recover $700 for alleged damages to the property at Abel and Post streets from water entering the cellar, and that he had interposed an answer. The communication was filed.

The Mayors' Convention.

Mayor Canfield in a communication called attention to the mayors' conference in Schenectady on June 10, 11 and 12.

Alderman Schick's resolution that the mayor be authorized to attend and take with him such city officials as he deemed necessary was adopted, the expenses to be paid by the city.

The mayor also wrote regarding the fact that the state law required the attendance of the sealer of weights and measures at the convention which started that day and continues in session until June 6. The sealer was given the privilege of attending his expenses to be paid by the city.

For Fourth of July.

Mayor Canfield also wrote regarding the Fourth of July celebration and suggested that the common council form a committee of the whole to make suitable arrangements for observing the day in Kingston.

Shufeldt Gets Raise.

Alderman Schick offered a resolution that the salary of Special City Judge Augustus Shufeldt be placed at $500 a year.

Alderman Preston objected to the amount believing it was too large. The resolution was adopted by a Evolution and the New Nations.

The emergence of numerous new nations, and the miraculous revival of old ones like Poland, are not evidences of disintegration; they are evidences of life; they are but the rapid culmination of a long, slow process of evolution, but the sudden crystallization of elements long held in solution and finally precipitated under the terrific blow delivered by the hammer of Mars. For to ascribe these new states to the creative talent and affluence of the adventurous actors upon the diplomatic stage of Paris, would be an excessive simplification of history—Charles Downer Hazen in the World's Work for June.

Ladies Monopolize Eagle.

The Eagle Hotel, with nearly two hundred women guests since Monday, being headquarters of the Daughters of Liberty, who have been holding their state council at Pythian Hall, has been a lively place, the long wide porch making an attractive picture with the women sitting in rockers and swinging fans in order to keep cool these hot evenings.
